STORY LINE: This is a scene taken from the French Canadian play "Les Muses Orphelines." The play is about four siblings that were abandoned by their mother after the death of their father. The siblings come together to settle family matters when they learn that their mother, after twenty years is returning. The scene I will be filming is the arrival of Martine, who has come home from Germany after being told that her brother Luc had died, only to realize that he is still alive. As well it is the scene where they learn that their mother is returning.

Characters (I would like, if possible, actors that are or speak French Canadian)

[CATHERINE TANGUAY] The eldest sister, 35yrs old. Elementary school teacher in Saint-Ludger de Milot. After being abandoned by their mother Catherine was the one who was left to take care of everyone. She is Isabelle's guardian. She is overworked and stressed about finances. She has a lot of anger over the past that is suppressed.

[ISABELLE TANGUAY] The youngest sibling, 27yrs old. Employee at the gate to Dangerous Passes Road. She has a mental handicap and does not understand everything. She is the catalyst for all that happens. She has the mind of an 11yr old, and has secret that she is keeping from the others.

[LUC TANGUAY] Their only brother, 30yrs old. Pseudo writer, who is writing a book of letters from his mother that he has imagined. He loves his mother and still believes her to be a great woman. He is angry at the townspeople for mistreating their mother, and blames them for her departure. He lives in Montreal but is visiting home.

[MARTINE TANGUAY] The middle sister, 33yrs old. Captain in the Canadian Armed Forces, stationed in Baden-Solingen, Germany. She has made an effort to forget about their mother and her childhood. She is a very strong woman who is caught between trying to forget her past and moving on to a new future. She is the most well adjusted of the siblings.
