[MAN] A man in his late 30's, early 40's is sitting under covers, trying to keep warm. Through narration and different shots, we see who the man is and was. It will start with different close ups of his face as he talks about his wife and daughter. We then will see a couple different shots of him trying to keep warm under a very small blanket, and him sitting all alone. It will be shot in black and white to show the reality of it, and will look as though its winter to show the struggles he goes through to keep warm...

NARRATION: Amy, my beautiful daughter turns 11 years old this November. And I love her more than anything. Kelly, my gorgeous wife of 15 years left me last spring when I lost everything. My house, my job and my life...all gone. Now I'm stuck with the streets as my home. When the shelters are too full this is where I come. Please notice me.
